The text is Psychology: Science, Behavior, and Life, by Ettinger, Crooks, and Stein, third edition. There are three exams, each counting one third of your grade. Office hours are on Thursday between 11:00 and 12:00 in David King (3041). You can also reach me at the phone number above. Each student is responsible for completing five research hours by either participating in a research project or a lecture describing such work. Sign-up sheets for the research are on a bulletin board in David King Hall near the Psychology Department. Students who sign up for a research project and who do not show up, or who do not complete the five hours, will be penalized.
