

Psyc 100, Introduction
Summer session 2, 1996
Frank Conahan Ph.D.
phone: 301-345-1200
office hours by appointment
Text: Myers, Psychology, 4th Addition

session	topic	assignment
1	introduction	chapter 1
2	biological bases	chapter 2
3	development	chapter 3
4	sensation	chapters 4 & 5
5	perception	chapter 6
6	learning	chapter 7
7	learning	chapter 8
8	memory & cognition	chapters 9 & 10
9	cognitive skills	chapter 11
10	test & motivation	chapters 12 & 13
11	personality	chapter 14
12	mental disorders	chapter 15
13	therapies	chapter 16
14	stress & coping	chapter 17
15	social theory	chapters 18 & 19
16	final exam

Grades will be determined based on performance on the two tests administered during the class and the written assignment. The average of the grades received on each will be the final grade. Tests are based on class lecture and all material assigned for reading.

A paper of no more than 5 pages is due on session 13. It is to include 3 references and present a subject area mentioned in your text. The format of the paper is to be expository: it is to present and explain some subject so that the reader will be introduced to the concepts involved.